Sussman Shank Named One of the “100 Best Companies to Work for In Oregon” for the 17th Year

MARCH 03, 2023

Sussman Shank is proud to announce that it has been named one of the “100 Best Companies to Work for in Oregon” for the 17th year by Oregon Business Magazine. This year we ranked number 19 on the list and are one of three law firms included on the medium-sized companies list.

The rankings are based on six workplace practices: work environment, management & communications, decision-making & trust, career development & learning, and benefits & compensation. Nearly 10,000 employees from a variety of companies across the entire state participated in the survey this year.

This recognition is a testament to Sussman Shank’s commitment to providing a positive work environment for its employees and fostering a culture of excellence. The people of our firm are a part of the key to our success, and we are grateful for their hard work, dedication, and contribution to our continued growth.
